pitcher of the week

MONICA ABBOTT

SCRAP YARD DAWGS

Despite only pitching 8 innings, Abbott's 18 strike-outs were 5 more than any other pitcher this week. She also pitched 3 more innings than any other pitcher who had a 0.00 ERA for the week.
Only pitcher to throw a complete game shutout this week.

rookie of the week

MEGAN BETSA

AKRON RACERS

Betsa earned her first NPF career win, pitching all 7 innings and allowed only 1 hit. Betsa struck out 9. For the week, no other pitcher with 1 hit allowed pitched more than 4 innings. Finished the week in the top 5 pitchers for strikeouts; tied for weekly lead with 4 batters struck out looking.

fact of the week

A POWER SURGE

In the first 31 games of the season, there were 46 home runs hit. That was an average of 1.48 home runs hit per game. In the 14 games played this week, there were 27 home runs hit. That comes out as 1.93 home runs hit per game. That means almost 0.5 more homeruns were hit per game this week. If the average of the first 31 games was applied to a 14 game span, that would come out to about 20 home runs hit. With 27 home runs hit, there was a large power surge seen in NPF this week over what has been seen so far this season.
